

Happy is the one who finds wisdom, the one who gains understanding; for its fruits are better than silver, its yield than fine gold. It is more precious than rubies; no treasure can match it. As for Me, this My covenant with them, says God: Let not My spirit, and the words that I have put in your mouth, depart from you, nor from your children or their children, from this time forth and for ever.

(Numbers 10:35)
